YOUR FUTURE: NURSING

If you want to learn in high-tech classrooms, practice nursing skills with 40-plus lifelike sims and virtual reality, and get experience in world-class BJC HealthCare hospitals, earning a Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) at Barnes-Jewish College Goldfarb School of Nursing in St. Louis might be the right choice for you.

We Offer Three Paths to a BSN:

- Are you working toward your associate's degree? You can transfer to the Goldfarb Upper Division BSN, a two-year (20-month) program that is effectively your junior and senior year of college.
- Got a bachelor's degree already? If you're taking prerequisites for nursing school here, and you have a non-nursing bachelor's degree, Goldfarb can offer you a 12-month Accelerated BSN to launch your career change.
- Working full time with your associate's degree? The Goldfarb Weekend/Evening Option BSN is a 36-month path to a nursing career.

Why Get a BSN? New graduate nurses in Missouri and Illinois earn $67,544-$72,505 per year on average (range $61,000-$81,000) as of October 2024. And for nurses, the BSN is often required in hiring or for career development.

YOUR NEXT CAMPUS: GOLDFARB

Located on the thriving Washington University Medical Campus — which includes Barnes-Jewish Hospital, WashU Medicine, St. Louis Children's Hospital and BJC HealthCare — Goldfarb's lively and secure campus is hopping with students and health professionals. Students have access to Forest Park, museums, live music, eclectic shops, restaurants, the Arch and more. Sports are also popular among students — you'll be close to the St. Louis Cardinals, St. Louis City SC Major League Soccer club, St. Louis Surge basketball and, our school team, the St. Louis Blues.
